Wildcats Run Over UMass

By DAVE SKRETTA
AP Sports Writer

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Plugged up through its first two games and stripped of its offensive identity, Kansas State finally found some room to run against Massachusetts on Saturday night.

John Hubert scampered for 118 yards, Kip Daily returned one of his two interceptions for a touchdown and the Wildcats rolled to a 37-7 victory in their final tuneup before Big 12 play.

"We made it our business to be effective in the ground game," said Robert Rose, who added a 26-yard touchdown run during a big second quarter. "This is K-State. We run the ball."

That hadn't been the case in a loss to North Dakota State and a lackluster win over Louisiana-Lafayette. The Wildcats (2-1) struggled to find room against what should have been a pair of over-matched foes, and were instead forced to throw the ball all over the yard.

On Saturday night, they were finally able to use the passing game to offset the run.

Jake Waters threw for 115 yards and two touchdowns, and backup Daniel Sams completed the only two passes he threw. That opened things up for the ground game, which piled up 329 yards.

"You go into the game with the idea that you want some balance with what you do, and defenses dictate which direction you go, and that was true tonight," Kansas State coach Bill Snyder said.

"After the first drive, we had some opportunities to have some success running the ball."

A.J. Doyle threw for 186 yards for the Minutemen (0-3), getting the start at quarterback in place of fellow sophomore Mike Wegzyn. Tajae Sharpe caught nine passes for 98 yards, and Stacey Bedell ran for 81 yards and their only touchdown.

"That was definitely a very, very good football team that we played," UMass coach Charley Molnar said. "It's not a juggernaut, but it's really good. We knew we needed to play a perfect game in order to hang with these guys."

In reality, things went askew right from the start.

Daily stepped in front of Doyle's second pass of the game, picked it off and returned it 38 yards for a score. It was the second straight week Kansas State returned an interception for a TD.

UMass settled down and answered with a 16-play, 77-yard drive that chewed up most of the first quarter, but it ended with a blocked field goal — another strike against perfection. Eventually, the Minutemen got the ball back again and Bedell's touchdown run gave them a 7-6 lead, silencing a festive crowd of 52,958 — the sixth biggest in school history.

The Wildcats managed just 33 yards of offense in the first quarter.

They finally got cranking in the 15 minutes before halftime. Sams took over at quarterback for Waters and led them on a bruising 75-yard drive that he capped with his TD run. Waters tagged back into the game and led an 81-yard drive that Rose finished off with his touchdown run.

Both of those drives were spent entirely on the ground.

"We were just doing what we do," Sams said. "We didn't really go into the game thinking we were going to run it more or pass it more. We were just going with what was working."

Kansas State forced UMass to punt with less than 2 minutes left in the half and took advantage of kick catch interference for some good field position. Five plays later, Waters found Hubert all alone in broken coverage for a 43-yard scoring strike and a 27-7 lead at the break.

The Wildcats pushed the game out of reach on their first possession of the second half.

Hubert ran on six of their first seven plays, the 5-foot-7 bowling ball trucking his way forward for first downs. That softened up the Minutemen defense, and fullback Glenn Gronkowski — the brother of Patriots tight end Rob Gronkowski — got loose over the middle of the field. Waters hit him with a little jump pass that he took 50 yards for his first career score.

The Minutemen never finished off another drive after the first quarter, even though they moved the ball well at times against a porous Kansas State defensive front.

A false start penalty scuttled one drive near midfield, and Daily's second interception of the game ended another in the third quarter. Lorenzo Woodley was stuffed on fourth down deep in Kansas State territory on UMass's final possession of the game.

"We've just got to keep pounding away at the rock," Doyle said. "One of these days the rock is going to explode and we're going to put up 35, 40 or 45 points a game. It's going to be a scary thing to see. We've just got to keep pounding away and pounding away."

Riley County Commission Minutes

The Board of County Commissioners Of Riley County, Kansas

The Regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners met at the Riley County Plaza East Building September 9, 2013 with the following members present: Dave Lewis, Chair; Robert Boyd, Vice Chair; Ron Wells, Member; and Rich Vargo, County Clerk.

8:30 Pledge of Allegiance
Public Comment,
Commission Comments, & Business Meeting

Cindy Volanti, Human Resource Manager/Deputy Clerk; Clancy Holeman, Counselor/Director of Administrative Services; Leon Hobson, Public Works Director/County Engineer; Johnette Shepek, Budget and Finance Officer; Alvin Perez, Public Works Operations Manager; Maura Wery, Manhattan Mercury; and Laura Monsanto, KMAN, attended.

Hobson introduced Alvin Perez the new Public Works Operations Manager.

Wells stated Friday's Department Head Retreat was very productive.

Boyd asked Holeman how Disberger could brief the Board on an overall staff evaluation.

Holeman stated it would have to be in open session.

Lewis said he felt very good about Friday's meeting.

The Board of County Commissioners signed Riley County Personnel Action Forms for the following:

Ramona Pearce, a new hire, as a Raising Riley Literacy Intern, in the Health Department, at a grade B step 3, at $11.93 per hour.

Maria Garcia-Baquero, for a status change, as a Breastfeeding Coordinator, in the Health Department, at a grade F step 5, at $15.42 per hour.

Kinsey Carder, a rehire, as a Raising Riley Scholarship Intern, in the Health Department, at a grade H step 2, at $15.44 per hour.

Boyd moved to sign a Highway Use Permit for Westar Energy to relocate poles out of farmers' fields to the road right of way to make accessibility easier on Casement Road. Wells seconded. Carried 3-0.

Boyd moved to approve the minutes of September 5, 2013 as amended. Wells seconded. Carried 3-0.

9:00 Clancy Holeman, Counselor/Director of Administrative Services Work Session

Johnette Shepek, Budget and Finance Officer; Laura Monsanto, KMAN; Brenda Nickel, Health Department Director; and Maura Wery, Manhattan Mercury, attended.

Holeman presented the temporary and limited real property license with Flint Hills Regional Council for temporary office space at the Riley County Health Department.

Boyd moved to approve the "Riley County, Kansas Temporary and Limited Real Property License" with the Flint Hills Regional Council. Wells seconded. Carried 3-0.

Holeman discussed county projects.

9:30 Press Conference
Maura Wery, Manhattan Mercury; Gina Scroggs, Downtown Manhattan Executive Director; Monty Wedel, Planning/Special Projects Director; Cheryl Collins, Museum Director; Judy Regehr & Shirley Delano - Riley County Genealogical Society; and Laura Monsanto, KMAN, attended.

Delano thanked the Board for assistance with the Platt House.

Regehr stated they will be celebrating the 50th Anniversary on Sunday, October 13, 2013 at 2:00 p.m. at the Manhattan Public Library.

Delano and Regehr discussed the Riley County Genealogical Society programs and projects.

C. Collins said Author Linda Johnston will speak about her new book, Hope Amid Hardship: Pioneer Voices from Kansas Territory, Thursday, September 12th at 7:00 p.m. at the Manhattan Public Library, 629 Poyntz Avenue, Manhattan.

C. Collins said this book brings together the words of sixty settlers who wrote about the brighter side of pioneer life in 1854-1861. Through their writings, these men and women reveal moments when their burdens were lighter-times that gave them reason to sing, dance, and celebrate. Many of the pioneers featured in the book are from Manhattan, Kansas.

Wedel said the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has released new proposed flood maps, which depict flood risk across Manhattan, Riley County, and portions of Pottawatomie County. The new proposed flood maps were developed after an extensive, multi-year study of the Wildcat Creek Area, the Kansas River Basin, and the Big Blue River Basin that used state-of-the-art technologies and risk modeling techniques.

Wedel said residents and business owners are encouraged to attend one of two open house sessions to learn how and why the local risk of flooding has changed, how the proposed new flood maps will be used, and the steps they can take to protect themselves from extensive flood damage.

Thursday, September 12, 2013 - Focus on the Big Blue River Basin at the Large Assembly Room, Manhattan Fire Department Headquarters, 2000 Denison Avenue, from 4:00 - 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday, September 25, 2013 - Focus on the Wildcat Creek Watershed Area at the City Commission Room, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz Avenue, from 4:00 - 7:00 p.m.

Scroggs thanked the Board for the Riley County contribution to Downtown Manhattan.

Scroggs discussed the Downtown Manhattan Project. Lewis said the HHW Collection at Howie's Recycling will be Saturday, September 14th from 8:00 a.m. - 12:00 (noon).

Lewis said the aTa Bus Ribbon Cutting and Open House will be held today at 2:00 p.m. at the southeast corner of Tuttle Creek Boulevard and Marlatt Avenue.

10:10 Leon Hobson, Public Works Director/County Engineer

Clancy Holeman, Counselor/Director of Administrative Services; Johnette Shepek, Budget and Finance Officer; Maura Wery, Manhattan Mercury; and Laura Monsanto, KMAN, attended.

Hobson presented an update on Public Works projects.

10:28 Laurie Harrison, Emergency Management Coordinator

Clancy Holeman, Counselor/Director of Administrative Services; Johnette Shepek, Budget and Finance Officer; Maura Wery, Manhattan Mercury; and Laura Monsanto, KMAN, attended.

Harrison said the USGS and Corps of Engineers Silver Jacket program have installed river gauges at Keats, Scenic, and Seth Childs on Wildcat Creek at no cost to Riley County. Now they are asking the City of Manhattan to pay the ongoing maintenance of them. In the past, Riley County has shared the Kansas River Gauge cost with Manhattan City. The most important element of this is, the readings from these gauges give them advance warning of flooding in the county so they can warn the citizens. By not having this element in their equation it is unknown how accurate the response and warning will be.

Harrison said the City of Manhattan has tentatively agreed to fund this project by funding the Scenic and Seth Child gauges and are asking Riley County to fund the Keats gauge. Harrison said Riley County will still need to fund their share of the Kansas River gauge.

Harrison said Emergency Management at this time has not budgeted for these costs. By looking at their current budget, now that the EMPG funds have been deposited, she believes they can adequately fund this project.

Harrison said Riley County's share is $6,120 per year for annual maintenance, calibration, and rental.

Boyd moved to allocate $6,120 from the Emergency Management fund for joint funding of the USGS river gauges on the Kansas River and Wildcat Creek at Keats. Wells seconded. Carried 3-0.

10:50 Bob Boyd left the meeting.

10:52 Cheryl Collins, Museum Director Clancy Holeman, Counselor/Director of Administrative Services, attended.

C. Collins said the next meeting of the Kansas Council on Travel and Tourism will be held in Topeka on October 14, 2013. Many of the members of the Council will be in Topeka that day to attend the Travel Industry Association of Kansas annual conference. Unfortunately, this meeting date conflicts with the Riley County training day.

C. Collins asked if she may be excused from the Riley County training day to attend the Kansas Council on Travel and Tourism October 14, 2013.

The Board agreed by consensus to allow Cheryl Collins to be excused from the Riley County training day to attend the Kansas Council on Travel and Tourism October 14, 2013.

C. Collins said the Summer 2013 issue of Reflections Magazine, a publication of the Kansas Historical Society and Kansas Historical Foundation features the article "Two New Publications from Tihen Grant Winners." One of the new publications featured is Kevin C. Olson's book "Frontier Manhattan: Yankee Settlement to Kansas Town 1854-1894".

C. Collins said they are very pleased to work with Kevin Olson on this book and are pleased that it has received very favorable reviews and recognition. The second publication featured is Linda Johnston's book "Hope Amid Hardship: Pioneer Voices from Kansas Territory." The Riley County Historical Society and Museum will sponsor a program by Linda Johnston on September 12, 2013 at the Manhattan Public Library. Tihen grants are awarded to non-academic researchers to help pay the expenses of research in the KSHS collections.

Wells moved to adjourn after the new aTa Bus Facility Ribbon Cutting at 2:00 p.m. Lewis seconded. Carried 2-0.

Voters Beware

The three men in the center, Ron Wells, Bob Boyd and Dave Lewis are the three Commissioners from Riley County and they are on a quest to take the vote of all Riley County Citizens away when it comes to new buildings in Riley County. They will have the Power to build any building for the City of Manhattan, the Manhattan School Board, Kansas State University, and the State of Kansas or any other government agency. They will have All Of The Power, no one else. The Citizens need to organize to stop this Power takeover.

In 20-Years Riley County Voters Have Approved 15 of 16 Election Questions

The Riley County Commission want to create a Riley County Building Commission because the State of Kansas says that the County can only spend $300,000 on construction without a vote of the tax payers. With a Building Commission the County can build any building for any government agency by a vot of 3-0. But take a look at all of the votes that have passed in Riley County over the past 20 years, and these Commissioners think they need to go around the voter. We don't think so...

RE: Special Question Leonardville City, Special Question Book 1

Shall the following be adopted?

Editorial...

By Jon A. Brake

Three very nice and pleasant men are about to take you to the Cleaners and all you will be able to say is "Thank you, here is more money."

A Building Commission takes away the right of Citizens to vote on any project. The Commission will tell people that they will have a right to petition to get a vote but the information given to the Commission says a City or County can use "Home Rule" to get away for any vote.

Here is what was in the Bylaw viewed by the Commission last week:

"ARTICLE V

Projects Limitation

The PBC shall only have authority to provide financing for Riley County building projects. The PBC shall not have authority to provide financing for building projects of the City of Manhattan, other incorporated cities, Kansas State University, other universities or technical schools, school districts, other local taxing entities, county benefit districts, the State of Kansas, any private person, private business, or any other private or public entity."

But the Commission took Article V out of the bylaws because it takes away their Power to work with the City, School District, State and the University.

They also removed Article VI which limited the amount that the Commission could approve. Here is the article;:

"ARTICLE VI
Financing Amount
Limitation

The PBC shall not approve financing for any Riley County building project which causes the total combined principal amount of all PBC-financed projects to exceed $_____."

Again the Riley County Commissioners do not want to give up the Power or limit the amount they can spend.

The Riley County Commissioners have had many people tell them that they do not want a Building Commission but they will go ahead and approve it anyway.

Citizens only have 30-days after the published legal notice to put together a petition to Stop the formation of a Building Commission.

The Citizens must be ready, they must be organized and they must work to get the number of signatures on a petition to Stop the Power grab.

To get this stoped we will need 50 to 60 people willing to spend time talking to people and getting their signatures.

A Riley County Building Commission will run up your taxes like you have never seen before and you will not be able to say a thing.

If you are willing to help send and e-mail to: freepress@kansanet.net and we will get it to the people in charge of the petition.

Over Easy...

Bob Strawn,
Mayor emeritus

Bob Strawn

"We had a commitment for $500,000 in the Economic Development Fund for Prathista that didn't turn out (so) one option would be to apply that (to the terminal expansion project)." With those (abridged) words from City Manager Ron Fehr and approval by the City Commission, Manhattan moves forward with a $17 million renovation and expansion of Manhattan Regional Airport.

You may recall our prior rants about this Commission gifting $500,000 in eco-devo funds to an Indian company named Prathista Industries Limited. We believed at the time, as shown now, that this was a fundamentally flawed idea. Thankfully, it fell apart for whatever reasons. We really don't care why. It's gone. That's good enough.

That Economic Development Fund money is now available for the airport - a growth activity which we wholeheartedly support. The planned expansion comes in two parts. The first basically increases and upgrades the terminal. And the second addresses additional passenger and carrier needs including two enclosed departure ramps.

Last Tuesday, the Commission approved the first phase costing a tad under $10 million. Of that, the Federal Government will pick up about $8 million through an FAA grant. Another $1.7 million will come from Passenger Facility Charges. The PFC program allows for the collection of up to $4.50 from every boarding passenger. Airports like our MHK use these fees to fund FAA-approved projects that enhance safety, security, capacity, reduce noise, or increase carrier competition.

The completed airport project will be funded mostly by the FAA. The feds will be asked to grant $13 million of the overall $17 million needed for both phases. PFC's will cover $3.0 million. And the city's Economic Development Fund will be tapped for the remaining $1.0 million and change.

The Fund's revenue comes from the half-cent sales tax that most of you favored last November. The city's share of that tax includes $1.7 million budgeted as revenue to the Fund next year and most likely something close to that number for each of the next nine years. Not exactly chump change. Expenditures in the Fund include grants to the Wolf House and Downtown Manhattan, Inc., costs associated with updating the area's comprehensive plan, and $185,000 annually to the Chamber of Commerce to help manage the city's economic development effort. In the past it funded $5 million in infrastructure upgrades surrounding the NBAF project and other worthy and some not so worthy activities. It is our view that economic development projects funded by taxpayers must always have a clear community purpose. It is "not" just about jobs. It is first and always about community - education, environment, infrastructure, neighborhoods, talent, wages, raising the overall standard of living. The average Jo should conclude:

"Yes, this benefits my town." Continue to meet that standard - like this airport project - and there will be broad citizen support. Move the community needle sans the Prathista's.

2. In 10-inch skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Cook chicken in oil 12 to 15 minutes, turning once, until outside is golden brown and juice is no longer pink when centers of thickest pieces are cut.

Expert Tips
Try to test for doneness only once or twice to keep juices inside and chicken juicy. Sliced or shredded leftover chicken breasts are perfect on sandwiches. Spread bread with a dab of cranberry relish for a sweet-tart flavor accent.

A Night Of First For K-State Football

By Kelly McHugh

KSU Sports Information

From senior Robert Rose's first career touchdown to senior Kip Daily's first interception, last night's 37-7 win over the University of Massachusetts was a night of firsts for quite a few on the K-State football roster.

Only three minutes into the game, Daily picked off Minutemen quarterback A.J. Doyle and raced to the end zone for a 38-yard touchdown. It was the first big play of the game for K-State, and Daily's first-ever interception and, of course, touchdown.

"It felt good; I was just thinking, 'Thank you God,'" Daily said postgame about his first interception. "Coach just called a good play and I saw the quarterback pull up so I went for the ball."

Then, with about only four minutes left in the third quarter, Daily's already solid performance got even better and he recorded his second interception of the game that eventually led to a field goal by place kicker Jack Cantele giving K-State a 37-7 advantage.

"I think any time you can score on defense and score on special teams it creates the balance that you need to have with your program and it's a great asset," head coach Bill Snyder said. "It's good to have interceptions for touchdowns. Any time we can get them, we'll take them; it was a nice play on Kip's part - he was in the right spot at the right time."

Also recording touchdowns for the first time last night were both Rose and redshirt freshman fullback Glenn Gronkowski.

Rose's first career touchdown came with 3:45 left in the first half after he rushed for a 26-yard touchdown.

Before the 2013 season, Rose had a total of 44 career rushing yards. Today - three games into the season - he has a total of 56 yards in 2013 and tallied 39 in last night's win.

"It was definitely exhilarating," Rose laughed about his first touchdown. "After I scored I was kind of shaking, some of the guys were kind of laughing at me, but it was great for me to finally get over that hump scoring. Hopefully getting over that hump I'll be able to get a little more."

Snyder said he was happy to see Rose get the touchdown, and was pleased to see Rose's good decision on the field pay off.

"He's got awfully quick feet - you can't find him," Snyder said about 5-foot-4 Rose. "He's got good change of direction, the quickness and by the time you really identify where he is sometimes it's a little too late. He made a good decision on the one he got in the end zone."

During K-State's first drive of the third quarter, Gronkowski found himself in perfect position to receive a throw from quarterback Jake Waters. Gronkowski connected with Waters' pass and went on to score a 50-yard touchdown, putting the Wildcats up 34-7.

It was pretty good," Gronkowski said about his touchdown. "I got a lot of stuff from everyone for not getting in on that one yard touchdown last week, and now they have nothing to say this week."

Gronkowski comes from a family with strong football roots as his older brothers Dan, Rob and Chris have all played (or still play) in the NFL, and he said when he checked his phone after the game it was full of messages from, perhaps, his biggest fans.

"I can rub it in to my brothers' face - I don't think they've done anything like that," Gronkowski laughed about the touchdown. "I've already talked to them, though, they've all texted me already because they were watching it on the internet. They were watching tonight, and they were just saying, 'congratulations, and 'it's about time,' even though it's only been three games."

Rice University Beats Kansas University 23-14

By DAVID FANUCCHI
Associated Press

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice linebacker Michael Kutzler started the home opener with a bang when he intercepted a pass eight minutes into the game and returned it 52 yards for a score, giving the Owls a 7-0 lead over Kansas. Rice went on to win 23-14.

"That was a great feeling, to get us off on the right foot and to see all of my teammates and the crowd get so excited," said Kutzler. "It was a great defensive play by the whole team all around, the line got a great push. We have a whole new mentality as a defensive unit, so to come out here tonight and hold them to 14 points, we're proud of that."

The Owls limited the Jayhawks to a total of 270 yards of offense on the night — 170 yards passing and 100 rushing. Kansas quarterback Jake Heaps was held to just 157 yards passing on 28 attempts, and the Owls intercepted him twice. James Sims led the Jayhawks in rushing with 109 yards on 19 carries, and Kansas had just 11 first down. More importantly, Rice allowed Kansas to convert on only 6 of 17 third-down attempts.

"I'm really proud of this football team. This was a game we wouldn't have won two years ago," said Rice head coach David Bailiff. "We've been through some hard times, but we're starting to show signs of growing up and we're playing with great effort and confidence that we have a chance to win. It's hard to win college football games period, so to win at home against a Big 12 opponent is pretty special."

The Owls opened the scoring with Kutzler's interception, his second career touchdown return of an interception.

The Jayhawks tied the score 7-7 early in the second quarter, when Heaps found Tony Pierson on a slant, and Pierson broke free from his defenders and raced 77 yards for the touchdown. The Owls responded on their ensuing possession with an eight-play drive, highlighted by Taylor McHargue hitting receiver Dennis Parks on a 54-yard strike that moved the ball deep into Kansas territory. Boswell followed by connecting on a 40-yard field goal that gave the Owls a 10-7 lead.

Later in the second quarter with the Owls leading 10-7, Rice stopped a Kansas scoring opportunity when Bryce Callahan came up with a deflected pass deep in Owls territory for his ninth career interception.

"We just could not get going, and we kept shooting ourselves in the foot with some drops and the turnovers," said Heaps. "It's unfortunate and I was surprised by it. We've worked really hard this season, and we really had a good week at practice. We were all excited for this game, for our team and for our offense in particular. We just did not come out and play like we practice."

Rice then moved the football 71 yards down the field and capitalized when Boswell booted a 28-yard field goal with nine seconds left in the half, making the score 13-7.

The teams traded possessions and punts in the third quarter until Kansas kicker Matthew Wyman missed a 47-yard field goal attempt. Two plays later, McHargue's pass was intercepted by Isaiah Johnson, and returned to the Owls' 25 yard line.

Heaps was able to convert a critical third-down play when he scrambled and found Tre Parmelee for a 17-yard completion that ended up just short of the Rice goal line. Heaps then scored on a plunge to give the Jayhawks their first lead of the game, 14-13.

The Owls special teams that came up with a big play early in the fourth quarter when Derek Brown partially blocked a Kansas punt that went out of bounds at midfield, giving the Owls excellent field position with 10 minutes to play.

When McHargue began to show signs of fatigue, Rice coach David Bailiff decided to go to backup quarterback Driphus Jackson. The sophomore out of Cedar Hill, Texas, moved them into long field goal range. Facing a fourth down from the 39-yard line, Bailiff sent Boswell out to attempt the 56-yarder.

"It was right on the edge, and if I had to do it again, I might not have tried it," said Bailiff. "But the kid came through and he's a great kicker. We have a lot of confidence in him."

Boswell nailed the kick to give Rice a 16-14 lead. "It felt great right when I hit it, and coming off my foot, I knew it was good," said Boswell.

After another defensive stop by the Owls, Jackson led Rice down the field for their only offensive touchdown of the contest, giving them a nine-point cushion when Ross punched it in.

McHargue completed 14 of 31 pass attempts for 168 yards and Ross carried the ball a career-high 27 times for 157 yards.

Kansas State Defeats UMass 37 to 7, Questions Remain

By Tonya Ricklefs
Manhattan Free Press

At the end of the first quarter, Kansas State struggled to stop UMass from gaining both passing and rushing yards. The only touchdown was from Kip Daily after a 38 yard interception return. The rushing touchdown by UMass's Bedell was the last touchdown UMass had of the game.

By halftime Kansas State had scored three touchdowns in the second quarter. They were able to score both by passing and rushing. When Daniel Sam's entered the game he was able to gain 55 yards in two plays. Waters was able to complete a pass to Hubert for 43 yards for a touchdown. Kansas State's offense began clicking while defense still struggled. While UMass was not able to score, it had more to do with their own missed opportunities often instead of Kansas State's ability to stop their offense. UMass was still able to manage 3rd down conversions over half their attempts. They ended the first half with 111 passing yards.

Kansas State had a 456 total offense during the game. While that is very impressive, 329 of those yards were rushing yards. Kansas State will need to work on being able to balance their offense to provide more scoring options. UMass gained 309 offensive yards. While more of these were passing yards, they were able to gain yardage with both the run game as well as passing game.

While another "W" in the win column is exciting, I think Bill Snyder summed it up the best in the post game press conference, "We need to get a whole lot better real quick. Real quick." Kansas State's Big 12 opening game in Texas is very important. Most Kansas State fans know that by this point we will not see much of the team's game plans, but most fans seem to agree that there is reason for concern.

Last weekend, the University of Texas lost to Ole Miss, but there are a few things to keep in mind about next week's game. Texas was able to build a lead in the 2nd quarter 23 to 14. Kansas State allowed UMass to take the lead early in the game, but was able to take the lead and keep that lead in the 2nd quarter. One large question fans have is if Kansas State is good enough to come from behind with a Big 12 team. Before the season, Mack Brown stated that this was the best team Texas has had since the 2009 team that played for the national title. Texas fans are still waiting for this Texas team to prove themselves worthy of Coach Brown's assessment. In addition, Texas has lost the last five meetings with Kansas State. It would be a great way to turn their season around with a win. Kansas State will be looking to prove that they will be a team to contend with in the Big 12.
