The Total Cost of ObamaCare is not just the Monthly Payment but also a Large Deductible and Co-Pay at Treatment

Special To The Free Press
By Robert St. Peter, MD,
President and CEO, Kansas Health Institute

In addition to the monthly premium, enrollees also will be responsible for some of the costs of the medical care they receive.

These costs include deductibles (the amount a consumer must pay before the insurance begins to cover costs), copays (a fixed amount a consumer must pay for a certain service, for example a $25 copay for each office visit), and co-insurance (the percent of costs a consumer must pay for certain services, for example 20% of a hospitalization).

Each insurance plan has an annual out-of-pocket maximum for these costs so consumers know what their highest potential cost might be. To make matters more complicated, the amounts are higher for care received out-of-network than for in-network care.

The annual out-of-pocket maximum that consumers in Riley County are responsible for can vary between $1,150 and $6,300 for an individual, and $2,300 and $12,600 for a family, depending on which plan they choose. For low-income consumers choosing any of the silver plans available on the Kansas Marketplace, additional financial assistance is available and the annual out-of-pocket maximum can be as low as $500 for an individual and $1,000 for a family, depending on income.

The Silver Benchmark Plan is the second lowest-cost silver plan in each county.

The premium tax credit is based on the cost of the Silver Benchmark Plan, and takes into consideration the consumer's family size and income. While the tax credit is determined based on the cost of the Benchmark Plan, it can be applied to any plan purchased in the marketplace, except for catastrophic plans.

Catastrophic plans are low-cost, limited benefit plans available only to individuals under age 30 or those with a hardship exemption.

Tax credits and premium amounts for the family scenario assume children will be enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP when eligible. In Kansas, children are eligible for Medicaid or CHIP if their family income is less than 225% FPL.

The Kansas SHOP Marketplace offers insurance plans to businesses with 50 or fewer employees. Federal law does not provide premium tax credits to employees in the SHOP assuming that employers would contribute to the cost of employee insurance. Also, catastrophic plans are not available in the SHOP.

Plans Offered And Their Cost Vary By County

TOPEKA, Kan. - The launch of the Affordable Care Act's online marketplace has had obvious technical problems, and the political debate continues across the country. Despite this, many Kansans now have new options to consider for their health insurance.

The troubled online system has prevented most interested Kansans from shopping for health insurance on the site, and it is difficult to know what plans they can purchase and what they will cost.

The Kansas Health Institute (KHI) has put together information on each county of the private insurers offering coverage, the various plans available, and the cost of those plans. This information is available on our website at www.khi.org/premiumratingareas.

The KHI report includes the premium tax credit, based on family size and income, in the calculation of the total monthly cost for representative families and individuals. Prices are included for each of the four coverage "tiers" - bronze, silver, gold and platinum - plus catastrophic plans available only to those under age 30 or those with a hardship exemption.

"Many Kansans who are interested in what insurance coverage they can get, and what it will cost them, have not been able to get that information," said Robert F. St. Peter, M.D., KHI President and CEO, and an author of the report. "We hope this informs people about the options they are likely to find once they can get into the federal website."

The Kansas Health Institute is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, independent health policy and research organization based in Topeka, Kansas. Established in 1995 with a multi-year grant from the Kansas Health Foundation, the Kansas Health Institute conducts research and policy analysis on issues that affect the health of Kansans.

Kansas State Wildcat Sports

K-State Hosts #18 Oklahoma

Thanks to a game-winning field goal from place-kicker Jack Cantele, K-State won its fourth straight Big 12 Conference game and became bowl-eligible following a 33-31 victory over TCU last week.

Now, the attention turns to the eighth and final home game of 2013 and the curtain call for 25 Wildcat seniors as K-State hosts No. 18 Oklahoma Saturday in Manhattan. The game is slated for an 11 a.m., kickoff and will be televised nationally on FOX Sports 1 with Craig Bolerjack (play-by-play), Joey Harrington (analyst) and Ryan Nece (sidelines) on the call. Wyatt Thompson will call the action on the K-State Sports Network with Stan Weber providing color analysis and Matt Walters giving sideline updates.

A free live audio broadcast is available at k-statesports.com and on SIRIUS/XM satellite radio channels 91/91, while the game will also be carried by WestwoodOne Sports.

Additionally, K-State Gameday, hosted by Bruce Haertl and former K-State greats Jon McGraw and Ian Campbell, will begin at 10 a.m., on K-StateHD.TV. Live stats will be available at k-statesports.com, while a live in-game blog at k-statesports.com and Twitter updates (@kstatesports and @kstate_gameday) will also be a part of the gameday coverage.

A QUICK LOOK AT THE WILDCATS

One of the hottest teams in the Big 12, K-State jumped out to a 14-0 lead against TCU and needed Jack Cantele's game-winning 41-yard field goal with :03 left to pick up the win. The kick by Cantele capped a 4-for-4 afternoon from the sophomore and marked the first time since 1980 the Wildcats won on a field goal in the final minute of the game.

The Cats totaled 411 total yards against the TCU defense, while holding the Horned Frogs to 348 yards, including just 99 on the ground. In its last four games, K-State has outscored its opponents by an average of 40-19, thanks in part to a plus-6 turnover margin, while holding opponents to just 107.2 rushing yards per game.

On defense, Ryan Mueller, Blake Slaughter and Ty Zimmerman continue to have stellar years as Slaughter leads the team in tackles (78). Mueller is fifth nationally in sacks (10.5) and seventh in tackles for loss (16.0), while Slaughter and Zimmerman (69) are both among the league's top 12 tacklers.

The special teams units have been solid again so far this season with the Wildcats' punt return unit ranking No. 1 nationally this week. In the kicking game, Cantele is 11-for-13 in field goals, including a career-long 44-yarder, while punter Mark Krause is averaging 42.9 yards a kick with 14 being downed inside the 20-yard line.

IN ELITE COMPANY

One of the longest-tenured active coaches in the nation, Bill Snyder picked up victory No. 175 of his career and No. 100 in conference play at Texas Tech. After guiding K-State from 1989 to 2005, and again over the last four seasons, the 2012 Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year and sure-fire hall of famer became the 46th coach ever to reach the 175-win plateau but just the 11th ever to do so at only one school. Additionally, he is only the third coach in Big 8/12 history with 100 conference wins at a single school.

FOURTH-QUARTER DOMINANCE

A big part of K-State's four-game win streak in Big 12 play has been the play of the Cats in the last 15 minutes of the game. After averaging just 5.3 points in the fourth quarter over the first six weeks, K-State has now scored 62 in the final frame over the last four weeks while holding opponents to just 17.

THE LITTLE THINGS

Sitting at 6-4 overall and 4-3 in league play heading into Saturday's game, Kansas State is just a play or two away from being 9-1 on the year. In close losses to North Dakota State, No. 21 Oklahoma State and No. 15 Baylor, the Wildcats held leads late in the games before dropping all three contests in the final minutes. In those games, K-State committed eight turnovers which led to 23 points by the opponent.

THE LITTLE THINGS, PART II

Since starting 2-4, the Cats have continued to get better each day in all phases of the game and have since climbed back to 6-4 with four straight wins. Over the last four games, K-State has forced 11 turnovers, while committing just five, and the Cats have averaged just four penalties per game. The Wildcat offense has averaged 6.6 yards a play over the last four games while holding its opponent to just a 4.7 clip.

FROM 2-4...

K-State became bowl-eligible for the 15th time under head coach Bill Snyder with last week's win, but even more impressive is how the Cats have responded after opening 2-4 this season. In fact, the 2013 Cats will become just the fourth Big 12 team to turn a 2-4 or worse start into a bowl appearance (2001 K-State, 2002 Oklahoma State and 2004 Iowa State). Looking at this trend nationally, only 8-percent of FBS teams in the BCS era have started 2-4 or worse and reached a bowl game prior to this season (47/596).

CLOSING STRONG IN NOVEMBER

The Wildcats are looking to have a November to remember, and under head coach Bill Snyder, the Cats have a track record of successful stretch runs. Since 1991 under Snyder, K-State is 50-17 in the month of November, which now includes 16 seasons of winning records in the month (1991-2003, 2011-13) and six seasons with an undefeated final month.

CATS CONTINUE CONSECUTIVE SCORING STREAK

K-State extended one of the nation's longest scoring streaks against TCU as the Wildcats have now tallied points in 213 consecutive games. The 213-game stretch is the eighth-longest in the nation and the second longest in the Big 12.

The Cats have not been kept off the board since Colorado shut out K-State, 12-0, on Nov. 16, 1996. The streak includes 140 conference games, 77 true road games and 18 neutral-site contests.

DRAWING FIRST BLOOD

Scoring first has been a big sign of good things to come for the Wildcats. Since 1990, K-State's record when scoring first is very impressive as the Wildcats have gone 144-27 (.842) when drawing first blood.

Last season, K-State was a perfect 6-0 when scoring the game's first points and is 5-1 so far in 2013.

HALFWAY HOME

There is no better indicator of a Wildcat victory than when K-State leads or is tied at the half. Since 1990, the Cats have protected a halftime lead in 164 of its last 169 (.971) games when leading at the half.

Last season, K-State went 10-0 when leading at the half and is 5-0 this season. Also, the Cats have won 38 straight games when leading at the half, which is currently the third-longest active streak in the nation.

PLAYING KEEP

AWAY
Kansas State has been on the positive side of the ledger in terms of time of possession over the last two seasons, ranking fourth (33:56) and 17th (32:03) nationally in 2011 and 2012, respectively. K-State, which has ranked in the top two of the Big 12 in each of the last three seasons, including 2013, is 21-7 dating back to 2011 when controlling the clock and possessing the ball more than its opponent. The Cats are 6-4 overall this season and have controlled the clock in six of those games (3-3 record).

The Conservative Side...

Over Easy...

By Bob Strawn,
Mayor emeritus

"I have been assured by a very knowing American of my acquaintance in London, that a young healthy child well nursed is at a year old a most delicious, nourishing, and wholesome food, whether stewed, roasted, baked or boiled ..." So wrote Jonathan Swift suggesting that impoverished Ireland might ease its economic troubles in the 1700's by selling children as food for the rich. This famous short story mocked heartless attitudes towards the poor as well as Irish government in general.

Bob Strawn

So, we offer a different kind of proposal, not so modest perhaps, but intended to fix or at least address the current rich boys' basketball policy dubbed "rent-a-player." Its practitioners were highlighted a week ago by the game's primary benefactor, ESPN, in something called the Champions Classic - Kansas University, The University of Kentucky, Duke University and Michigan State University. All but Kentucky are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities (AAU).

Now the AAU is a by-invitation association of 62 somewhat haughty schools which set themselves apart from their have-not peers based "... on the high quality of programs of academic research and scholarship and undergraduate, graduate, and professional education in a number of fields, as well as general recognition that a university is outstanding by reason of the excellence of its research and education programs."

So this takes us back to the ESPN platform which serves as the haves front porch most every night in prime time. Perhaps AAU standards don't seem to matter quite as much as network money to these members.

Guys like Andrew Wiggins at Kansas and Julius Randle at Kentucky certainly wow'd us with their basketball skills. We're confident they're good kids too. But we can't help but wonder what "high quality" scholarship they are practicing at their respective institutions beyond basketball? We wonder if distinguished alums and faculty pale at the thought of these schools turning into little more than basketball way stations? And by the way, we had our own one-and-done, Michael Beasley. But let us not digress.

Here's our modest proposal. For every student-athlete who leaves college before using three years of scholarship eligibility, a scholarship would be deducted for the years remaining on that unused 'ship. Example: K-State would have lost one basketball scholarship for the two years remaining on Beasley's when he left for the NBA.

This would force coaches to actually recruit "student-athletes" rather than continue to rent players. Kids like Mike could go play pro ball somewhere for better pay. Fans would find a more competitive field. Scummy handlers would have fewer prospects to manage. In the case of basketball, the NCAA championship would become more than a six team rent-a-player race. And we all could all stop the hypocrisy of blaming the NBA. Of course this would require courage and wisdom from college presidents who run the NCAA. Two attributes lost at the institution and by its leadership years ago. But hey, it was just a modest proposal.

Was There A "Kilroy" During World War II

Kilroy was used by Americans all over the World.

It became one of the most famous names of WWII.

Here Is The Story Of James Kilroy

He is engraved in stone in the National War Memorial in Washington, DC - back in a small alcove where very few people have seen it. For the WWII generation, this will bring back memories. For you younger folks, it's a bit of trivia that is a part of our American history. Anyone born in 1913 to about 1950, is familiar with Kilroy. No one knew why he was so well known - but everybody seemed to get into it.

So who was Kilroy?
In 1946 the American Transit Association, through its radio program, "Speak to America," sponsored a nationwide contest to find the real Kilroy, offering a prize of a real trolley car to the person who could prove himself to be the genuine article. Almost 40 men stepped forward to make that claim, but only James Kilroy from Halifax, Massachusetts, had evidence of his identity.

'Kilroy' was a 46-year old shipyard worker during the war who worked as a checker at the Fore River Shipyard in Quincy. His job was to go around and check on the number of rivets completed. Riveters were on piecework and got paid by the rivet. He would count a block of rivets and put a check mark in semi-waxed lumber chalk, so the rivets wouldn't be counted twice. When Kilroy went off duty, the riveters would erase the mark.

Later on, an off-shift inspector would come through and count the rivets a second time, resulting in double pay for the riveters.

One day Kilroy's boss called him into his office. The foreman was upset about all the wages being paid to riveters, and asked him to investigate. It was then he realized what had been going on. The tight spaces he had to crawl in to check the rivets didn't lend themselves to lugging around a paint can and brush, so Kilroy decided to stick with the waxy chalk. He continued to put his check mark on each job he inspected, but added 'KILROY WAS HERE' in king-sized letters next to the check, and eventually added the sketch of the chap with the long nose peering over the fence and that became part of the Kilroy message.

Once he did that, the riveters stopped trying to wipe away his marks. Ordinarily the rivets and chalk marks would have been covered up with paint. With the war on, however, ships were leaving the Quincy Yard so fast that there wasn't time to paint them. As a result, Kilroy's inspection "trademark" was seen by thousands of servicemen who boarded the troopships the yard produced.

His message apparently rang a bell with the servicemen, because they picked it up and spread it all over Europe and the South Pacific.

Before war's end, "Kilroy" had been here, there, and everywhere on the long hauls to Berlin and Tokyo. To the troops outbound in those ships, however, he was a complete mystery; all they knew for sure was that someone named Kilroy had "been there first." As a joke, U.S. servicemen began placing the graffiti wherever they landed, claiming it was already there when they arrived.

Kilroy became the U.S. super-GI who had always "already been" wherever GIs went. It became a challenge to place the logo in the most unlikely places imaginable (it is said to be atop Mt. Everest, the Statue of Liberty, the underside of the Arc de Triomphe, and even scrawled in the dust on the moon.

As the war went on, the legend grew. Underwater demolition teams routinely sneaked ashore on Japanese-held islands in the Pacific to map the terrain for coming invasions by U.S. troops (and thus, presumably, were the first GIs there). On one occasion, however, they reported seeing enemy troops painting over the Kilroy logo!

In 1945, an outhouse was built for the exclusive use of Roosevelt, Stalin, and Churchill at the Potsdam conference. Its first occupant was Stalin, who emerged and asked his aide (in Russian), "Who is Kilroy?"

To help prove his authenticity in 1946, James Kilroy brought along officials from the shipyard and some of the riveters. He won the trolley car, which he gave to his nine children as a Christmas gift and set it up as a playhouse in the Kilroy yard in Halifax, Massachusetts.

KSU Policy Challenges Kansas Open Records Law

By Travis Perry
Kansas Watchdog

OSAWATOMIE, Kan. — Interested in snagging some public documents from Kansas State University?

Then get ready to take a trip back in time, because on campus in Manhattan, open records are a strictly 19th century affair.

Unless you can physically make an appearance at 128 Dole Hall, don't expect any semblance of modern ingenuity or convenience when it comes to submitting your request under Kansas open records law. Official university policy dictates such requests will otherwise only be accepted through physical mail or via fax — a technology with roots stretching back as far as the mid-1800s.

I found this out the hard way after KSU records custodian Hanna Manning politely, yet firmly, declined my initial document request simply because I chose to submit it via email — a two-decade old technology that has been embraced by every other government entity I've encountered.

According to official KSU policy, "requests for inspection or copying of public records may be made in writing (including submission by facsimile, but not e-mail) through the designated custodians."

This appears to fly in the face of the Kansas Open Records Act, which plainly states that "a public agency may require a written request for inspection of public records but shall not otherwise require a request to be made in any particular form."

What ensued between me and Manning was what now appears to have been a debate over the meaning of the word "in."

Manning eventually gave in to my request, but maintained her position that KORA form prohibitions don't apply here.

"It is not the university's stated policy to receive an open records request via email, which is a format or delivery system issue rather than a form issue," Manning told Kansas Watchdog. "We do not require any particular form to be used."

But state open records advocates don't exactly agree.

Richard Gannon, Kansas Press Association "I do not recall any other record custodian taking this position. Without further research and information, I believe K-State is dead wrong in their interpretation of (state law)," said Richard Gannon, director of governmental affairs for the Kansas Press Association.

"Furthermore, their position is not in the public interest and, I believe, violates legislative intent."

Students Take New Fur Harvesters Class

Twenty area students ranging from middle schoolers to college sophomores completed the state required fur harvesters licensure course on November 16 at Wea Bear Lodge. Students represented

Riley, Blue Valley, Valley Heights, Oak Hill, and Beattie areas. A former graduate, Paul Braddy of Riley High School assisted the morning session. Paul said, "I took this course two years ago and just wanted to stop by for a while to refresh my knowledge and see the new students."

The Riley County Fish and Game Association made the lodge available where Region IV leaders of the Kansas Furharvester's Association conducted the day-long training session. Kent Stewart opened the day by introducing students to the history and future of trapping and stressed the critical importance of practicing good ethics, responsibility, and sportsmanship.

Lee Steinmeyer, Wally Cain, and Dan Williams provided technical instruction and demonstrations on choosing equipment, planning for the season, furbearer behaviors, making sets, running the trapline, and caring for the harvest.

Steinmeyer of Wheaton is nationally known and is the

Foster, Kansas State beat Long Beach State 71-58

MANHATTAN, Kan. — After scoring a career-high 25 points against Oral Roberts on Wednesday, freshman guard Marcus Foster tallied 17 points on 4-of-9 shooting, including four 3-pointers, to lead Kansas State (2-1) to a 71-58 win over Long Beach State on Sunday.

His 42 combined points in the last two games are the most by a true freshman in back-to-back games since Michael Beasley combined for 46 points vs. USC and Wisconsin in the 2008 NCAA Tournament in Omaha, Neb.

Seniors Shane Southwell and Omari Lawrence joined Foster in double-digit scoring with 14 and 10 points, respectively. Southwell added a team-high six rebounds along with three assists, while Lawrence collected a game-high three steals.

"We have stressed making improvement, making strides each day and each practice so that we can keep getting better," said head coach Bruce Weber. "We have a new team with a lot of different pieces that have to be figured out but the effort was and emotion was so much better today."

The Wildcats jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the opening two minutes of the game after a Wesley Iwundu alley-oop from Foster and a 3-pointer from Southwell. K-State pushed the lead to 14-5 after seven minutes, capped off by four straight points from Lawrence. After a Dan Jennings tip-in cut the lead to 31-17, back-to-back 3-pointers by Foster put the Wildcats back on top 34-17. The home team went into the break holding a commanding 39-22 lead.

The second half saw more of the same from K-State. D.J. Johnson scored four quick points, followed by Foster hitting two more consecutive 3-pointers to give the Wildcats a decisive 49-26 advantage with 16:39 left in the game. LBSU (1-3) would cut the lead to 54-41, after Christian Griggs-Williams made a lay-up with 11:46 remaining, but the Wildcats would not allow the 49ers to come any closer than 13 points for the rest of the game.

Jennings led Long Beach State with 14 points, while Shawnee, Kan., and Hutchinson Community College product A.J. Spencer chipped in 13. Despite being outbounded 40-29, the Wildcats turned up the intensity on defense, forcing 20 turnovers and getting 13 steals. The 13 steals are the most the Wildcats have had in a single game since snagging 14 against South Dakota on Jan. 3, 2010. K-State was able to cash in 19 points off of turnovers.

Next up for the Wildcats is a journey south for the Puerto Rico Tip-Off on Monday, as K-State open the tournament on Thursday at 9:30 a.m. CT vs.

Charlotte (2-1) on ESPNU. The squad will play three games in a four-day period from Thursday to Sunday at the Coliseo de Roberto Clemente in San Juan.

The next home game is Sunday, Dec. 1, as the Wildcats play host to Central Arkansas at 3 p.m. Tickets can be purchased for as low as $15 through the Athletics Ticket Office by calling (800) 221-CATS. The game will be broadcast on FOX Sports Kansas City.

Cantele Big 12 Player Of The Week

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Following his 4-for-4 performance in Kansas State's thrilling 33-31 victory over TCU, which included the game-winning 41-yard field goal, sophomore place kicker Jack Cantele has been named the Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week, the conference office announced Monday.

Cantele, who shared the honor with Oklahoma punt returner Jalen Saunders, picked up his first career weekly designation, while it marked the Wildcats' Big 12-leading 23rd player-of-the-week honor since 2011.

A product of Wichita, Kan., Cantele tied for second in school history with his four makes, which came from distances of 31, 34 and 23 yards before his game-winner with three seconds remaining. His kick proved to be the Wildcats' first game-winning field goal with less than one minute remaining since 1980 and gave K-State bowl eligibility for the fourth-straight season.

Cantele pushed his season total to 11 field goals made on 13 attempts. He is two field goals shy of moving on to the school's single-season top-10 list, while his 84.6-percent rate ranks fifth in K-State history.

Kansas State hosts 18thranked Oklahoma Saturday in an 11 a.m., contest at Bill Snyder Family Stadium. The game, which serves as Senior Day, will be shown to a national audience on FOX Sports 1. Scattered singles and standing-room only tickets are available through the K-State Athletics Ticket office online at www.k-statesports.com/tickets, by phone at 1-800-221-CATS or in person at the ticket office inside Bramlage Coliseum.

Cantele Sends Kansas State To 33-31 Win Over TCU

Kansas State's Jack Cantele (3) boots his second extra point in the first quarter. Cantele went on to win the game for the Wildcats with a field goal with only 3 seconds to go.

By DAVE SKRETTA
AP Sports Writer

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State's Jack Cantele had never tried a game-winning field goal, not as a kid growing up in Wichita or as the star kicker at Kapaun Mt. Carmel High School.

In his words, he'd been waiting his whole life for the opportunity.

So when the sophomore drilled a 41-yarder with 3 seconds remaining Saturday, his fourth field goal of the game, he leaped into the air in a wild celebration. The kick gave the Wildcats a 33-31 victory over TCU and made them bowl eligible for the fourth straight season.

"There was no doubt it was going in. It was one of the best kicks I've ever kicked," said Cantele, whose older brother Anthony also kicked for Kansas State.

"I didn't know how to react," Cantele said. "Someone hit me from behind and I fell to the ground, and I just started beating the crap out of the ground. I didn't know what else to do."

Kansas State (6-4, 4-3 Big 12) was flagged for excessive celebration when several players ran off the bench. But the 15-yard penalty didn't matter. TCU (4-7, 2-6) couldn't do anything with the ensuing kickoff as Kansas State wrapped up its fourth straight win.

"The bottom line is we didn't play nearly as well as I'd like us to play," Kansas State coach Bill Snyder said, "but we played well enough to win."

Just barely, though. The Wildcats squandered a 17-7 halftime lead, and then watched as the Horned Frogs' Jaden Oberkrom hit a 56-yard field goal to give TCU a 31-30 lead with 2:13 left.

Kansas State took over and Jake Waters deftly marched his team down field, hitting Tyler Lockett for 12 yards to convert a third down, and then hitting him again for 8 more yards. That was enough to get Cantele within range of the go-ahead field goal.

Quarterback Jake Waters (15) moved the Cats through the air.

"It was just a great ballgame," TCU coach Gary Patterson said.

Not such a great return to his alma mater. Patterson grew up in tiny Rozel, Kan., and played for the Wildcats from 1980-81. He said he hadn't been back in years.

The stinging defeat left his team ineligible for a bowl game for the first time since 2004.

"This is only the second time in 16 years that we haven't been to a bowl game," Patterson said. "We've got two weeks and we've got an opportunity to play a Baylor team at home. It won't be a bowl game, so the Baylor game will have to be our bowl game."

The Wildcats jumped out to an early lead when Daniel Sams, alternating with Waters at quarterback, scooted 11 yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later, Waters hit Lockett — who had beaten All-American cornerback Jason Verrett — with a 74-yard touchdown pass.

TCU finally got going when B.J. Catalan left Kansas State safety Dante Barnett grasping for air on a 15-yard TD run. But the Wildcats answered Cantele's field-goal for a 17-7 halftime lead.

The Horned Frogs pulled ahead in the second half when Trevone Boykin hit Josh Dotson in the back of the end zone from a yard out. After a fumble by Sams, Boykin carried around the left side on fourth-and-1 from the Kansas State 7 for a touchdown and a 21-17 lead.

In a game of wild momentum swings, Kansas State quickly took it back.

On third-and-14 from the Wildcats' 21-yard line, Waters took advantage of time in the pocket to hit Tramine Thompson in broken coverage. He out-ran safety Elisha Olabode to the end zone for a 24-21 lead — the 79-yard scoring strike the longest for Kansas State since 2005.

Back came the Horned Frogs, who went after backup safety Dylan Schellenberg, pressed into duty after an injury to Ty Zimmerman. David Porter ran past Schellenberg and caught Pachall's 51-yard touchdown pass to give TCU a 28-24 lead late in the third quarter.

Cantele added a field goal to pull within a point, and then Kansas State took advantage of a bizarre penalty to take the lead in the fourth quarter. The Horned Frogs were whistled for having two players wearing No. 2 on the field during a punt, giving Kansas State a fourth-and-1, which they converted for a first down. The drive ended with Cantele kicking a 23-yard field goal for a 30-28 lead.

"It's the first time where that's ever happened," Patterson said of the penalty.

The Horned Frogs marched to the Kansas State 39 on their ensuing possession, but defensive end Alauna Finau got his hand on Pachall's pass on third-and-5. Patterson decided to send Oberkrom onto the field rather than punt, and his 56-yard field goal had a few yards to spare.

It turned out, though, that the Horned Frogs left too much time on the clock.

"After the field goal, I had a lot of faith in our defense," Pachall said. "But we really shouldn't have put them in that situation and put all of the pressure on them."

Quarterback Daniel Sams moved them on the ground.
